CHECKLIST FOR RELIGION MAJORS

Name: ___________________________ Class year: ____________

This list is to help you keep track of your progress toward the major in Religion, in consultation with your advisor.

Requirements for the Major:

Students majoring in religion are required to take RLST 11 or RLST 12, RLST 37 (Approaches to the Study of Religion), RLST 71 (Senior Seminar), and 3 1/2 other units. These units must include courses in at least three religious traditions, one from each of Groups A, B, and C (see list 1 below). For each of the three traditions at least one course must be a foundation course (see list 2 below), and in one of the traditions at least one further course must also be taken.

1. Traditions:

Group A: Judaism, Christianity, and American Religions
Group B: Islam and South Asian Religions
Group C: Buddhism and East Asian Religions

2. Foundation Courses:

Courses in other departments that meet Religion Department requirements:

Some courses taught in other departments, and courses you take abroad or elsewhere during the summer, may be counted as meeting Religion Department requirements for the major, up to a total of 1 unit. For a list of such courses at Kenyon, see Course of Study. Religion majors who wish to use these courses to satisfy requirements for the major must discuss them with their advisors and with the chair of the Religion Department.
